These expectations are the foundation of loving, respectful conduct within the group. We want this group to be a safe, fun, positive and meaningful Christian experience for every person. You must honor these principles if you wish to be part of the group. If you are unable to follow any portion of this covenant, your parent/guardian will be called and may be required to bring you home. Acting in any manner that is harmful or participating in illegal activities will warrant a call to the local authorities.
